

After Release

After release, you and your family can access a confidential community sexual assault advocate by contacting a local program. To find services in your area, contact the Washington State's health and human service information line at 2-1-1.

To speak to a PREA Support Specialist, call the Office of Crime Victims Advocacy toll-free at 1-855-210-2087

Hours of operation are Monday through Friday between the hours of 8:00am and 5:00pm

Sexual Assault Support and Information Line

What is Sexual Assault?

Sexual assault occurs when a person is forced, coerced, exploited, and/or manipulated into unwanted sexual activity. It can include completed or attempted assault and may or may not involve force or threats. Sexual assault is a range of behaviors that abusers use to establish and maintain power, control, and domination over their victims. It can begin with words, gestures, favors, jokes, and intimidation. It can progress to coercion, threats, sexual violence, rape, retaliation, and other forms of violence.

No one deserves to be raped. If you have been sexually assaulted it is not your fault. There are people who care. Surviving and healing is possible.

Support and Information

The Sexual Assault Support and Information Line is operated by an independent agency outside of the Department of Corrections. Services through this line are free. Calls are not recorded and do not require your IPIN. This is not a reporting hotline and does not replace the Department of Corrections current reporting hotline.

This line is only for issues related to sexual assault and abuse. Anyone who repeatedly misuses the line or threatens or harasses the PREA Support Specialist may be disciplined.

If you are a victim of a sexual assault or abuse, you may have to cope with challenges you never expected to face. You may be overwhelmed by fear or anger and you may not know what to do next or where to turn for help.

If you've been affected by sexual assault or abuse you can call the Sexual Assault Support and Information Line for services.

A PREA Support Specialist on this line can:

- * Provide private support
- * Provide additional information